BIO

Elizabeth Chamberlain is an actress, singer-songwriter, and dancer-mover who works in the film, television, theatre, and music industries. Elizabeth received her Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Acting from the University of Alberta in 2021 and had also received a diploma of Theatre Arts in 2018 from Grant MacEwan University.

Elizabeth's professional career has taken place on stage as well as in front of the camera. Elizabeth's most impressive theatrical accomplishments include playing Amy in "Little Women" (Opera NUOVA), Lucy in Mac Wellman's "Dracula" (University of Alberta's Studio Theatre), and the original and titular role of Red in the 82-show debut of "The Red Mountain" (Gold Fever Follies).

In film, Elizabeth is most known for her roles of Alexandra 'Zee' Bradbury in the Hollywood Sci-Fi film series "Space Command" directed by Marc and Elaine Zicree, the gruesome and feminine lead Mildred Moyer in the slasher-comedy "Grotesque" (Higher Universe Pictures), and the Las Vegas Sci-Fi thriller "Alien Storm" (Mahal Empire Productions).

Elizabeth also is known for her singing and songwriting and has composed and performed the theme songs for films such as her singles "Run Back to Me" for the English film "The Code" directed by multi-award winning director Patrick Ryder, "I Should Have Known" for "Markings of Murder" (Hot Shots Films), and "Casually Suicidal" for "Grotesque" (Higher Universe Pictures).

When she is not performing, Elizabeth enjoys teaching musical theatre to youth. Elizabeth is particularly fond of her time as an instructor for Broadway North Youth Company where she first studied her craft as a child. Elizabeth believes that inspiring our youth with art creates a more vibrant future for everyone.

Elizabeth is known for her fiery passion for the arts and her willingness to pursue her crafts wherever they may take her.
